

2010 SCCA Regional - July 17-18 at Road Atlanta

The club racing program is the road racing division where drivers race on either dedicated race tracks or on temporary street circuits.[7] Competitors require either a regional or a national racing license. Both modified production cars (ranging from lightly-modified cars with only extra safety equipment to heavily-modified cars that retain only the basic shape of the original vehicle) and designed-from-scratch "formula" and "sports racer" cars can be used in club racing. Most of the participants in the Club Racing program are unpaid amateurs, but some go on to professional racing careers. The club is also the source for race workers in all specialties.
