TEAM SUMMIT PRO STOCK DRIVERS VISIT TROOPS OVERSEAS:

Just one week removed from the season-ending Auto Club NHRA Finals at Auto Club Raceway at Pomona, former Pro Stock world champions Jason Line and Warren Johnson, along with Pro Stock driver Rickie Jones and legendary Bigfoot monster truck driver Dan Runte, have begun a three-day Thanksgiving Week visit of the KaiserSlautern Military Community in Frankfurt, Germany.

The group will distribute 1,500 souvenir gift bags and sign autographs during the visit before heading back home on Nov. 25, Thanksgiving Day.

On the first day of the trip the group visited Ramstein Air Force Base, then moved on to Landstuhl Regional Medical Center on the second day of the visit and met with troops being treated there as well as doctors and medical personnel working there.

"Having served in the Air Force, I know how much it means to have any contact from home, so we're going to do our best to put smiles on the faces of as many people as possible," said Line. "I want to thank Summit, the USO and the Army Special Forces Association Chapter 64 for putting this together, and feel very honored to be chosen to make the trip."

A blog of their activities will be posted on NHRA.com throughout their visit. To see where their next stop will be and to meet the people and troops they're working closely with, visit NHRA.com.
