

Gresham Motorsports Park (GMP) is one of the most modern and fan-friendly racing and entertainment facilities in the United States. Located on the site of the old Peach State Speedway near Jefferson, GA, Gresham Motorsports Park. The primary focus of the park will be competition on the half-mile asphalt track known in racing circles as "Georgia's Fastest Short Track." A new quarter-mile track in the infield of the half-mile oval has been added to provide additional racing programs for multiple divisions. New grandstands, rest rooms, concessions, parking and lighting have made the facility attractive to local groups looking to stage events at a multi-purpose community gathering place. 2009 saw the new park open with the World Crown 300.
