

If you didn't attend you missed a great event at the World of Wheels in Atlanta at the Georgia World Congress Center.

The major sponsors of the event - Summit Racing and O'Reilly's Auto Parts had booths on the show floor that anchored an impressive display of horsepower in exhibits of innovative concepts for 2010.

All the major players in the motorsports industry for Georgia were there: Atlanta Motor Speedway, Atlanta Dragway with great set-ups at their respective booths.

Attendees included AmSoil, Geico, Butler Tire and many more. The car show and race car exhibit were awesome and the Hooters Girls gave us a warm welcome.

Special thanks Bruce Wilson of World of Wheels for our booth at the event. We met a lot of our readers who attended the event. Great to see you - next time at a track near you!

For more info on The World of Wheels and the entire schedule of shows nationwide, visit www.worldofwheels.com. Here's some great shots to tell the rest of the story. (Photos by Fred Hanyon, MSA) See all the WOW photos at www.motorsportamerica.com

Eric Ondras of Ranger, GA: 1955 T-Bird

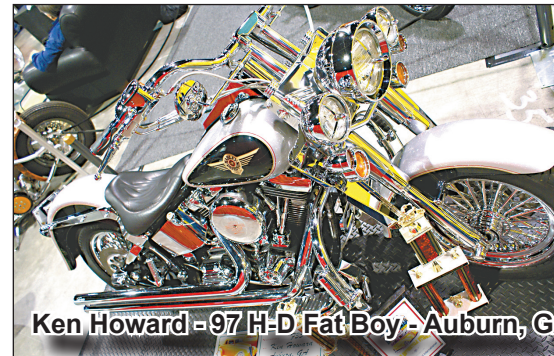

There were more than beautiful cars at World of Wheels

James Ledewig - 75 Ford Pinto Wagon
Dahlonega, GA

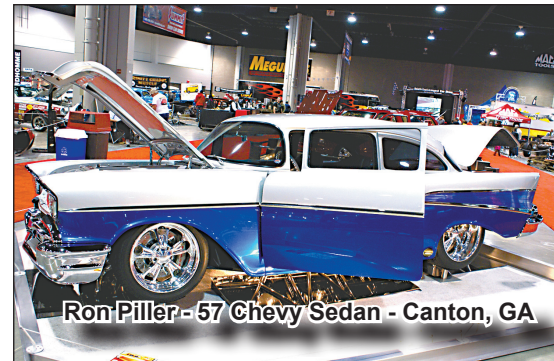

Local racing hero, Mike Head, had his grass-roots-racing helmet proudly on display

Ken Howard - 97 H-D Fat Boy - Auburn, GA

D.B. Brown of Dalton, GA had an impressive trophy display for this 1933 Willys's Drag Car in the racer exhibit.

Ron Piller - 57 Chevy Sedan - Canton, GA

Lewis Alder of Powder Springs, GA put a nostalgic treatment on this old Ford