

Sportscar Vintage Racing Association: SVRA Season Finale, October 14-17, 2010

There is something pure about seeing a racing Ferrari in action, or a Shelby GT350 blasting down a straightway. Yes, these cars look gorgeous standing still, even in a museum. However, rest assured that the like of Enzo Ferrari and Carroll Shelby would much rather see their creations raced as intended, and that is what the SVRA is all about.

The SVRA, provides a great show for fans and sponsors. More importantly, they offer tightly regulated wheel-to-wheel racing for the men and women who own and maintain their vintage and historical cars, and the venues through which they can compete.

The Sportscar Vintage Racing Association was founded over 20 years ago with the vision of keeping vintage race cars on race tracks where they belong, and can delight fans just as they did in their heyday.

Photographer Ross Monckton was there that weekend capturing these vintage beauties going thru the paces of competition at Road Atlanta.
