

The Cops and Rodders car show and educational fair was the place to be on Saturday March 11 at the Atlanta Expo Center. Lt. Dan Wade is the coordinator of the event and even has his own classic police car on display at the show. Many of the educational events help attendees to become better drivers on the road. There were motorcycles in a bike show and dyno testing for participants. The indoor show drew nearly 275 cars from the metro area to show up for the admiring public.
