

FIRST LAPS ON ALL-NEW ATLANTA MOTOR SPEEDWAY

The bottom line for NASCAR fans: the 2022 races at Atlanta Motor Speedway are can't-miss events.

"Two-wide will be no problem. Three-wide – yeah, you'll have that when you have the right opportunity with hot tires, the grip level, and when people are more comfortable with their setups," said Busch. "So it's just going to ramp up and get more aggressive as we get more and more laps on track."

"I think it's going to be a lot of fun coming back for the race," added Buescher. "I am looking forward to it. I think they did a good job with the ideas that they've implemented to create an exciting race weekend."

Seats for Cup Series racing at AMS – including the inaugural Cup race at the new AMS on March 20th – start at just $39. Tickets are available now at AtlantaMotorSpeedway.com.

About the Folds of Honor QuikTrip 500 weekend:

Since 2015 the Folds of Honor QuikTrip 500 has been the main event in Atlanta Motor Speedway's spring

NASCAR weekend at Atlanta Motor Speedway. This storied race brings awareness to Folds of Honor and its mission to help families of military servicemen and women who have fallen or been disabled while on active duty in the United States Armed Forces.

On Sunday, March 20, 2022, this 500-mile race will be the first for the NASCAR Cup Series on Atlanta Motor Speedway's revamped racing surface, with NASCAR's best taking to the reconfigured 28-degree banked corners for the first time.

The race weekend also features Atlanta's same-day NASCAR double-header on Saturday, March 19, 2022. The thrills of the Fr8 208 Camping World Truck Series race and the Nalley Cars 250 NASCAR Xfinity Series race all happen in one action-packed day that race fans look forward to every year.
